The nurse had steadfast faithfulness in his mouth, when he rose and when he sat down,
And when he lay down and when he walked – in his ascent to Sinai, and his descent.
He had desire for its friendship inside him, and it was his bread, for eating –
Cong. Just as it was when it was being brought up by him. (Esther 2:20)

Lo, the wanderings of his thoughts would constantly reveal hints,
For his intelligence was prepared with the eyeshadow of vision, to see [God's] splendor.
Moreover, he increased God's words with explanation, thus and thus,
Cong. Moses began to elucidate this Torah. (Deut. 1:5)

To unite the revealed commandments with the concealed ones.
And along with [the commandments], he spoke words of rebuke to the Israelites:
Cong. Hear ye, for I shall speak noble words. (Proverbs 8:6)

To straighten the heart's mistakes, he spoke twice.
And with the belt of understanding, he girded his loins –
Cong. From Adonai, from heaven. (Genesis 19:14)

May He fulfill the statement of His king, His spokesman:
Cong. For Adonai has built Zion; He has appeared in His glory. (Psalms 102:17)

Cantor: For Adonai has built Zion; He has appeared in His glory. (Psalms 102:17)

Cong. Blessed is Adonai's glory from His place. (Ezekiel 3:12)
